WHAT THE GENERAL SAID!

A noted General being asked by some of his friend how he lost Texas replied: "If I was ordered to choose between Hell and Texas I would choose the former." The above axiom is verified every day by parties moving from the North, East and South, and they can find there exactly as to the existence of the former, they certainly avoid Texas, and like an adjacent people, seek a productive country, such as Missouri, Kansas, Colorado, Nebraska and the Far West. Reader are you contemplating a trip to other country on business or pleasure? If so, take the line having the best facilities of car and R. R. accommodations. The Old Reliable Hannibal & St. Joseph R. R. the Pioneer line west of the Mississippi River, offers you through Day Coaches and Pullman Palace Sleepers, Chicago to Council Bluffs, Toledo, Ohio, and Indianapolis, Indiana, to the Missouri River without change. Tourist and land seeker round trip excursion tickets on sale by the principal ticket agents of Eastern R. R. Offices. For map, time table and description of country and route, or any other information address the Western Ticket Agent.

WHY THE BOY FALLS OFF.

And how to prevent it. It is strange and true that the little boy can be kept on the farm with comfort, while the larger ones will leave. A few of the leading reasons are: Want of sufficient compensation for their labor, with continued toil, and the hope of a change for the better. They become tired of the farm, which is necessarily dull, and the boy, with his active mind, longs for something more exciting. Let the farmer, if he is able, pay his boy a fair wage, and let him have a share of the profits, and he will be satisfied to remain at home. Let the farmer provide his family with the best labor-saving machinery, and he will not only be able to do more work, but he will have more time for social enjoyment, and his family will be happy and contented. Let the farmer provide his family with a good library, and let them have a share in the profits of the farm, and they will be able to see that it is for their interest to remain at home. Let the farmer provide his family with the best publications of the day, and let them have a share in the profits of the farm, and they will be able to see that it is for their interest to remain at home. ### Doing Up Men's Linen.

New York Evening Post.

Some time ago my husband used to complain that his linen collars did not set nicely in front. There was always a fullness, which, in the case of standing collars, was particularly trying to a man who felt a good deal of pride in the dressing of his neck, as it spoiled the effect of his cravat, and often left a gap for the display of either the collar band of the shirt or half inch of bare skin. While talking with a practical shirt maker one day he mentioned his annoyance, and inquired if there was any way of remedying it. "Yes, answered the man, "the fault is with your laundress." While doing up your collars she stretches them the wrong way. Dump linen is very pliable, and a good pull after a fourteen inch into a fifteen inch collar in the twinkle of an eye. She ought to stretch the material crosswise, and not lengthwise. Then in straightening out your shirt bosom she makes another mistake of the same sort. They also ought to be pulled crosswise instead of lengthwise, particularly in the neighborhood of the neck. A lengthwise pull draws the front of the neckband somewhat directly under your chin, where it was never meant to go, and of course that spoils the set of your collar. With the front of your neckband an inch too high and your collar an inch too long you have almost understood the complaint."

The speaker was right. A few days my husband ordered the necessary changes to be made in the method of our laundry, a wonderful difference immediately showed itself in the appearance of that most important part of his dress, his neck. Let me commend the hint to other ill-treated men.

Family Matters.

The art of cooking fishes to wash and handle them as little as possible. Lay by in a dark, cool place till ready for cooking.

Furs can be easily preserved without camphor or pepper, by placing them in boxes and carefully pasting up the cracks in the boxes.

Enamel cloth can be kept fresh for years by using proper care. If water fall upon it it should be quickly wiped off with a wooden cloth and greasy spots should be removed with soap and water.

Oil cloths can be easily and quickly ruined by cleaning them with hot water and not wiping them properly. They should be washed with lukewarm water, and wiped perfectly dry with a soft flannel.

The following wash will renovate gilt frames: Take sufficient flour of sulphur to give a golden tinge to about a pint and a half of water, and in this boil four or five hours, adding more water as it boils away; strain off the liquid and with it, when cold, wash with a soft brush any gilding which requires restoring.

To make Scotch shortbread, rub together into a stiff short paste two pound flour, one pound butter, and six ounces loaf sugar; make it into square cakes about a half inch thick; prick them all over, the edges at the top; cover the whole surface of the cakes on tins so as to touch each other on their edges, and bake in a slow oven.

CHOCOLATE PUDDING.

One pound potatoes, boiled and well mashed, quarter pound butter, stirred in while warm, two ounces sugar, rind of half lemon, chopped fine, with the juice, two teacupfuls of milk and four eggs. Butter the tin, put in mixture. Bake in moderate oven half hour.

THINK FOR YOURSELF.

Hour and head are made for use; after meals, people go to sleep, dyspepsia and liver problems follow; the head burns and brains swoon; nervous and sleepy people, low spirits, raise food, digestive and other problems; total effect of force. The remedy, they say, is sick and exhaustion sympathy. The natural remedy, which is only a form, then and is Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets, sold by Dr. A. J. Stone.

A 75c bottle will convince you of its merits. Don't delay another hour. Here is the bottle and every bottle and your health is certain as you live. Will you do it or will you continue to suffer? Think for yourself.

No other disease has ever so astonishingly prevailed in that region. They speak of it in strong terms of unqualified praise. Let all such testimonials are from the best citizens.

SORELY AFFLICTED.

J. H. Bunsworth & Co., Denver, Col.: Gentlemen: I am impelled by a sense of duty to inform you of the effect of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE upon me. I have been sorely afflicted with Catarrh for four years, at times so severe as to render life almost a burden. I tried your Radical Cure, and from the first application I found relief. It is, in my opinion, unsurpassed as a remedy. I believe it to be all that is claimed for it. Very truly yours, WM. ABBOTT. Denver, Sept. 25, 1877. Rio Grande, Denver.

GREATLY AFFLICTED.

Messrs. J. H. Bunsworth & Co., Denver: Gentlemen: I take pleasure in recommending SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. For years I was greatly afflicted with this disease. I was greatly afflicted with it. I found relief in your Radical Cure. A few days' treatment was all that was necessary. I am well. Yours, A. W. SMITH. Denver, Oct. 1.

TRIED EVERYTHING.

Messrs. J. H. Bunsworth & Co., Denver: Gentlemen: I have used SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for CATARRH. It is the only thing that has given me satisfaction. I have tried everything else. I shall use it. Yours, etc. Denver, Oct. 1.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

[illegible] August 10th, 1878,

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

Is the light of the prohibitionist letters published it will not be safe for any [illegible] to be seen with the terms of praise applied to him with reference to public men or anything in relation to the [illegible] question. [illegible] with that party. But makes it some difficulty to decide, in the selection of his ballot, [illegible]

Decorse has two days yet to the Hon. J. G. Cannon notwithstanding his old friend. Besides making many new votes and was doubtless encouraged to believe that he will the [illegible] votes only a few votes in opposition but in all probability a much larger one. The people, without regard to party, recognize in Mr. Cannon a representative who has labored faithfully and correctly to do his whole duty and there are few who do not consider his efficient services equal of [illegible] continued and valuable service. He now [illegible] with that party. But makes it some difficulty to decide, in the selection of his ballot, [illegible]

This prohibitionist editor makes a sorry sort of explanation relative to his flattering puff of Martin Foran. By intimation that it did not know what it was in complimenting that high-toned scoundrel which when properly analyzed it would not be in any way complimentary to the Irish. As we understand it, in the first of his letter, he [illegible] for Senator in the candidate [illegible] the Democratic party will be [illegible] and which by law continues six years and which [illegible] ence.

Fifth. The Republicans [illegible] to make greenbacks receivable for customs dues the House [illegible] passing a similar measure when they knew it was [illegible] the Senate. They [illegible] not to pass the Senate [illegible] which would have [illegible] the country [illegible]

REPUBLICANS AND GREENBACKS.

In view of the record of the Republican party on the greenback question it is impossible to see how any true friend to a genuine honest greenback currency can be found elsewhere than in the ranks of that party. Here is the record:

First. The Republican party originated the greenback currency.

Second. The Democrats denounced the legal tender act as unconstitutional at the time of its passage.

Third. The Democratic Supreme Court [illegible] the act unconstitutional, the Republican judges holding directly opposite views. It is only a few years since the Democratic press were denouncing General Grant for packing the Supreme Court of the United States, as they said, on the question.

Fourth. Mr. Peck, a Republican member of Congress, introduced the joint resolution to pay labor the further greenback which was adopted [illegible] and is sumption now [illegible] that the holder of a note [illegible] the special to pay [illegible] next January. The greenback [illegible] be retired as [illegible] under the law [illegible] to pay [illegible] the currency of the country. The parts are [illegible] and to contraction. So [illegible] hostile to the legal tender property the greenback [illegible] the country will naturally appoint the party which gave that money [illegible] and which by law continues six years ence.

Fifth. The Republican [illegible] to make greenbacks receivable for customs dues the House [illegible] passing a similar measure when they knew it was [illegible] the Senate. They [illegible] not to pass the Senate [illegible] which would have [illegible] the country [illegible]

AUGUST ELECTIONS

The coming state elections will occur in August in North Carolina, Alabama and Arkansas.

On the 1st in North Carolina [illegible] Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, three Judges of the Superior Court, Solicitors of the Judicial District, and is of the General Assembly, Register, Surveyor, Coroner, Sheriffs and Treasurers in the counties and Constables in the towns. The state is hopelessly Democratic in its politics and the result may be easily foretold.

On the 6th of August the people of Kentucky will vote for county officers, Sheriff, County Judge, Clerk, Magistrates and Constables. [illegible] officers to be voted for are [illegible] any constitutional amendment or other state [illegible] the people.

On the same day Alabama will elect a Governor and [illegible] and members of the State Legislature. Only one ticket is [illegible] For Governor Rufus W. Cobb; for Secretary of State William Wise; for Treasurer Isaac H. Vincent; for Auditor Walter Prowe; for Attorney General H. C. Tompkins; for Superintendent of Public Instruction Jerry [illegible]. The ticket will be published [illegible]

At the next session of the Legislature some seat to United States [illegible] Republicans [illegible] for the term ending March 4th [illegible]. The present Legislature consists of 21 Democrats and 20 Republicans. In 1876 the Democratic majority in the House was [illegible] so much as the whole Republican vote [illegible] for President.

A Neat Hit

Alexander Stephens made a very neat and pointed remark in the course of his speech last week. His feeble condition prevented his taking more than a few words in his pocket a small bottle of [illegible] said by compound [illegible] the Bond on whiskey. When he talked [illegible] bottle and drank like a man in the presence of his audience. Of the reason that he felt he was [illegible] nothing more favorable [illegible] on the principles of the immortal Jeff [illegible] Alexander Stephens [illegible] the most popular statesman [illegible] Louisville Post

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 30. Dr. John H. Rauch, of Chicago, President of the State Board of Health, has written to Dr. Wardner, of Cairo, member of the Board, letters [illegible] application for [illegible] yellow fever which is reported at different points on the Mississippi may become introduced into Illinois. To avert such result the Board of Health, he think, should use every effort. He therefore urges Dr. Wardner to place himself in communication with the authorities of Memphis and other towns below Cairo and also to cooperate with the local authorities in every possible way in keeping a strict lookout for all cases that may reach Cairo and communicate the facts, that the Board may take necessary action. Dr. Rauch will also communicate with the St. Louis authorities upon the same subject.

GRAVE PERIL in Letting the Ex-Rebels run the Government.

No man can read the Southern press or speeches of Southern leaders without seeing that the old issues are not settled. When a grand ovation can be given Jeff. Davis and his sentiment applauded it is evidence to the world that the ruling element at the South believe in the right of secession is firmly as ever, and that they are determined to make the doctrine of home rule cover all ever claimed for by states rights. There is certainly grave peril in handing the government over to the men who fought so fiercely to do treason and who still declare they were right in doing so. Davis County (Iowa) Republican

Tilden and Hewitt.

Among all the interview of great and little men pa sine about we failed to catch a syllable from the quiet man of Gramercy park. A word from Tilden would take a heavy load off the chests of some western statesmen. By the way, what's happened to Abe Hewitt? He has not been heard from since his wind duel. Cincinnati Enquirer

Precisely the Difficulty

The New Orleans Democrat strongly objects to having such men as Jeff Davis called traitor and rebels. Davis it says is simply a man of honest conviction. Such men now what he always believed and the editor of the Democrat in addition and of other think with him. That is precisely the difficulty. St. Louis Journal of Commerce

THE NEW BISHOP.

Yesterday the Rt. Rev. Bishop Seymour of the Springfield Diocese paid St. John's Parish of this city, his first visit, and was during his stay the guest of Senator Oglesby. Last evening the Bishop preached at St. John's church to a crowded house, from the text, "What shall a man be profited if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?" The speaker dwelt upon the significance of the words, "Whole World," and brought out in detail some of the things included in the expression, such as wealth, position and empire, and these things possessed not in part but in their entirety, was what the Saviour meant by the whole world. And all these things were set over against that which each person possesses, a soul. In the presentation of the things which go to make up the whole world, as used in the text, the Bishop was eloquent in language and clear in thought.

What the human soul is, was the next dwelt upon, and in this part of the talented prelates discourse the majesty and grandeur of the human soul were brought out in a manner which showed comprehensively how much more valuable is the soul than all material things combined.

From this point the speaker passed to a consideration of the greatness and importance of the work which the Church has in hand, viz., the saving of priceless souls, and here the question of individual responsibility was dwelt upon, and the speaker sought to impress each churchman with an idea of what he or she might do in this great work.

The condition of the parish was alluded to as being without a pastor, and the brethren were exhorted to see to it that a pastor was provided without delay, with whom they might unite in the great work of saving souls. The discourse throughout was practical, and the Bishop's text was presented with the best of thought, and impressively eloquent in its delivery, holding the close attention of the congregation.

With the Bishop is traveling, officiating as his chaplain, the Rev. Mr. Martin, of Lincoln, who conducted the service preliminary to the sermon.

At the conclusion of the services at the church many of the members of the congregation and some other citizens repaired to the residence of Senator Oglesby, where an opportunity was afforded for a social greeting of the new Bishop.

We understand that it is the purpose of Bishop Seymour to move to Springfield early in the coming autumn, and fully establish himself with his seat of his diocese, and the church here under his jurisdiction may well congratulate themselves upon having one of the ablest of the Episcopal dignitaries as their chief minister.

THE NEW BISHOP.

Yesterday the Rt. Rev. Bishop Seymour of the Springfield Diocese paid St. Johns Parish of this city, his first visit, and was during his stay the guest of Senator Oglesby. Last evening the Bishop preached at St. John's church to a crowded house, from the text, "What shall a man be profited if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?" The speaker dwelt upon the significance of the words, "Whole World," and brought out in detail some of the things included in the expression, such as wealth, position and empire, and these things possessed not in part but in their entirety, was what the Saviour meant by the whole world. And all these things were set over against that which each person possesses, a soul. In the presentation of the things which go to make up the whole world, as used in the text, the Bishop was eloquent in fancy and clear in thought.

What the human soul is was then dwelt upon, and in this part of the talented prelates discourse the integrity and grandeur of the human soul were brought out in a manner which showed conclusively how much more valuable is the soul than all material things combined.

From this point the speaker passed to a consideration of the greatness and importance of the work which the Church has in hand, viz., the saving of priceless souls, and here the question of individual responsibility was dwelt upon, and the speaker sought to impress each christian with an idea of what he or she might do in this great work.

The condition of the parish was alluded to as being without a pastor, and the brethren were exhorted to see to it that a pastor was provided without delay, with whom they might unite in the great work of saving souls. The discourse throughout was pregnant with the best of thought, and impressively delivered, and it is sincerely hoped the seed sown may fall on good ground.

With the Bishop's evening discourse was Rev. Mr. Martin of Lincoln who conducted the service preliminary to the sermon.

At the close of the services at the church many of the members of the congregation and some other citizens took leave of the Bishop, who departed for Springfield, where an opportunity will be afforded for a consecration of the new church.

We understand that after the visit of Bishop Seymour he expects to remove to Springfield early in the coming autumn and fully identify himself with the work of his diocese, and the church is under his jurisdiction may well congratulate themselves upon having such a chief pastor.

DEMOCRATIC PRIMARIES.

The Democratic voters of the third ward met at the Fireman's Headquarters last night and elected the following delegates to the convention to be held this evening:

C. A. Pearce, C. E. Gorrell, J. H. Bellver, Alf. Wade, J. L. Price, J. S. Pitt, Hiram P. Horton.

I. W. Emerson, Chairman.

J. L. Price, Sec.

The delegates of the fourth ward met at the court house and elected the following delegates: Samuel Rice, Wm. Dunn, S. S. Prather, Michael Mullgrew.

C. F. Pierce, Chairman.

J. L. Dean, Sec.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Newton C. Dand will continue to act as Circuit Clerk, vice T. C. Chenoweth, by Governor Beveridge, until the next meeting of the Republican convention.

BURNED DOWN. Last night about ten o'clock an alarm of fire caused a great commotion in the city, and a bright light out West Main street caused a rush in that direction. On arriving at the place of the fire it was found to be a one story frame dwelling, which had been unoccupied for some time, and which was understood the property of Sam. Malone, Esq. The house was considerably dilapidated, and was totally of but little value. The Rescue boys were first upon the ground, but owing to the distance of the burning building from a water plug, the hose of No. 1 was not sufficient to reach the fire, and the boy had to wait a few minutes for No. 2 to come up in order to get hose enough. A stream was then thrown, which soon extinguished the flames, but before this was done the old house had "gone where the woodbine twineth." As there was no family in the house it is evident that the fire was set.

SHARP PRACTICE. Yesterday afternoon a young man of fine proportions, who is evidently lacking in brains as well as honesty, presented at Milliken & Co's bank a paper which read as follows, with the evident expectation of getting the money on it:

July the 30 1878.

Samuel Marts promise to pay to the order of Will Mackdougal the sum of 30 (eighty) dollars of your price, value received.

(Signed) JAMES MILLIKEN.

It is needless to say that the cashier was not for the moment, and while the document was being examined an officer was called for and Deputy Marshal Lockwood was soon on hand and took the young man in custody. He was taken before Justice Peake, where, upon being questioned, he stoutly maintained that the paper was given him by Milliken, but finally confessed that he had found it in the street. He was committed to the county jail. He is the son of William Marts, and by his best friends is believed to be a very bad boy. THE most unhappy of all men is the man who cannot tell what he is going to do, that has got no work cut out for him in the world, and does not cut into any. For work is the grand cure of all the maladies and miseries that ever beset mankind—honest work which you intend getting done.

Most people, I observe, work till they are used up, and then rest to recover themselves. I am persuaded that the true principle for an energetic man is to rest before he gets tired, as a preparation for labor. The minister ought to rest on Saturday, and go into the pulpit full of vigor. For this reason the morning hours are generally the best hours because they are the freshest. If the pond has a full head of water on the machinery runs easily enough and vigorously. If the water is low the machinery drags. My rule (but I sometimes violate it) is never to work except when I have so much to do as to make me feel that it is easier to work than to keep still. There is the same difference between a worker who has a great reserve of force to draw on and one who can barely keep himself at work by his conscience that there is between a trader who has a large capital behind him and one who is on the edge of bankruptcy.

Milestones on the Road to Health

The recovery of digestion and the assumption of activity by the liver, bowel and kidneys are milestones which mark our progress on the road to health. They speedily become perceptible when Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is used by the invalid. Nothing so quickly and especially tends to minimize the distance to the goal of health as does this fine tonic. Unlike the ordinary stimulants and tonics, it works no injury to the system, but invigorates the whole fabric. The vital forces are not left in a worse condition than before, but are permanently strengthened. The system is not left in a more feverish condition, requiring more of the stimulant, but is left in a healthy condition, requiring no more of the Bitters than is necessary to keep the system in healthy action. Dyspepsia, Constipation, Biliousness, Fever and Ague, Nervous Complaints, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaints, Female Complaints, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Loss of Appetite, Malaria, Fever and Ague, Chills, Debility, Nervous Prostration, Sick-Headache, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Kidney Disease, Chronic Constipation, Piles, &c.

A sick body far from recovery will entertain no warbling aspirations, the mind is affected by the system to the extent that it can never acquire perfect vigor in health, symptoms until that function is actively restored. Take for an instance constipation, a suspension of which may be attributed to the Bitters. If the effect upon which it revolves, now work for more constipation, for it is the prolific cause of biliousness and a hundred other symptoms, upon one of which and each manifestation, the healthful general influence of the bitters. The disappearance of all these symptoms is the sure of the bitters, how with what thoroughness and how speedily they do it.
